Speaker's disclosures

The Royal Colleges of Physicians wishes to ensure that there is balance, objectivity and scientific rigour in the activities it approves for CPD. All speakers participating in educational events and contributors to eLearning are asked to disclose the following:

- The existence of any significant financial activity or other relationship the speaker has with:
 - The manufacturer(s) of any commercial product and/or providers of commercial services discussed in an educational presentation;
 - Any commercial supporters of the activity.

This will apply to any relationships that are in place at the time the presentation will take place or in the past 36 months preceding the education event or preparation of the distance learning material.

- Financial or material compensation in relation to research and publishing
 - Received financial compensation for publishing publications from a healthcare company, organization or marketing company
- Financial or material compensation in relation to educational activities:
 - Training of health professionals
 - Planning training packages
- Ownerships and possessions in companies related to health care (includes service providers, IT)
 - Stockowner of a company (eg. medical devices for care)
- Compensation for expert functions in health care and consulting health care guidance processes
 - Board member in a development project
 - Member of health board in the municipality

The intent of this disclosure is not to prevent or devalue participation by a speaker or educational contributor who has conflicts of interest or who wishes to refer to unlicensed uses in his/her presentation. Rather, the disclosure aims to provide learners with transparency and information so that they can use their own judgement to determine whether their learning has been affected by bias. .

Please note also that, when making reference to substances or products, the Royal Colleges wishes speakers to use generic names wherever possible.

*RCP will process the information in accordance with data protection regulations, kept confidential and not disclosed to any third parties. The information is there to provide our reviewers to make an assessment/judgement on the application submitted and ensure that it is purely for educational purposes.
