How to access the Global Keynote & Technical Questions

Is the Global Keynote accessible via LinkedIn?

Yes. But we recommend you to login into the main event platform as there would be more content and virtual networking opportunities with attendees.

Do I need to download or install anything to be able to attend this event?

No. You do not need to download or install any software to participate. You do need to have access to the internet, ideally via Google Chrome.

Can I login using my laptop, phone or tablet?

Yes.

Can I watch the event on a MAC?

Yes.

What browser can I use?

Ideally Google Chrome on Windows machines – although it also works Internet Explorer, or Safari on Mac OS. We recommend you to have the latest version of your browser to maximize your virtual event experience.

Can I view the event while connected to WiFi?

Yes, but we recommend that you connect to a wired network, as it provides you with better internet stability. If you opt for wired, please ensure you disconnect your WiFi altogether, to avoid conflicts.

Can I view the event from home on my company's VPN?

Yes, you can. Depending on your company's VPN policy. Nevertheless, we do not recommend watching the event through a VPN, as usually, internet connection speed on VPN is lower than via direct connection to home broadband.

Can I view the event on my mobile phone?

Yes, access to the digital event via your mobile phone is possible, on both Android and iOS devices. No installation of any apps or plugins is necessary. If you are using an iOS device you will prompted to double click on "Play" for the Global Keynote streaming to start on Home Page.

What should I do if the image freezes?

If your local internet speed fluctuates or is not very reliable, you might see some freezing. Likewise, if you're using your machine simultaneously for other bandwidth draining operations. If this should happen, please stop any other applications on your machine and refresh the event window.

What if I don't hear any audio from the beginning?

Please check your computer's audio and/or mixer settings to ensure your speakers or browser audio are not muted.

What should I do if I lose audio?

Audio and video are delivered together in the same stream. If you experience loss of audio, please check your computer settings.

This is a video webcast. Why am I only receiving audio, low quality video or buffering?

The media player will automatically adapt the video quality down depending on your available bandwidth. The lowest adaption is an audio only stream.

If you are on a slow internet connection, you may experience moments of buffering. If you are connected over VPN, disconnect from it and refresh the page. If you are using Wi-Fi, try connecting to the Internet directly via Ethernet cable.
