

Pharmacy 2030: Celebrating & Sharing Best Practice

SUNDAY 29 MAY, 10AM – 4PM

STRATHCLYDE TECHNOLOGY & INNOVATION CENTRE, GLASGOW

10.00-10.15	Welcome and introduction Clare Morrison, Director for Scotland, Royal Pharmaceutical Society
10.15-10.45	Keynote address Alison Strath, Chief Pharmaceutical Officer, Scottish Government
10.45-11.00	Renewing local networking through RPS Regionals Royal Pharmaceutical Society
11.00-12.15	Plenary: Celebrating and sharing best practice Pharmacist prescribing of antivirals for Covid-19 for patients at high risk of severe disease Audrey Thompson, Lead Pharmacist, Prescribing, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde A whole system approach to establishing a patient safety programme focused on high risk pain medicines Deborah Steven, Lead Pharmacist, Fife Pain Management Service, & Programme Director, High Risk Pain Medicines, NHS Fife Transforming hospital discharge through a cross-sector approach to medicines supply and reconciliation Anne Thomson, Lead Pharmacist, Clinical Services and Gwen Shaw, Lead Pharmacist, Patient Services, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Using data to improve care through understanding patients’ adherence to medicines: Adhere Rx and the Medicines Adherence Visualisation Information System (MAVIS) Lucy Dixon, Lead Pharmacist (Systems) and Richard Hassett, Senior Prescribing & Information Analyst, Effective Prescribing & Therapeutics Division, Scottish Government Supporting pharmacist independent prescribers in community pharmacy through peer review Pamela Macintyre, Lead Pharmacist, Community Pharmacist Development Team, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Implementing pharmacogenomics in the stroke service Alex Matos, Specialist Clinical Pharmacist – Stroke, NHS Tayside
12.15-1.15 Lunch
1.15-2.00	Improving access to pharmaceutical care Exploring different ways in which access to care can be improved, including case studies on: Pharmacist remote consultations to enhance surgical capacity and improve clinical care for arthroplasty: Keith Addie & Kieran Fitzpatrick, Peri-Operative Medicine Management Project Co-Leads, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Gastroenterology: improving prescribing, monitoring and optimisation of medicines in outpatient and inpatient settings: Michael Smith, Highly Specialist Clinical Pharmacist & Pharmacy Team Lead, Gastroenterology & IBD, NHS Lanarkshire Clinical pharmacy input to improve medicines optimisation in surgical services: Jin Hah, Site Lead Pharmacist Western General Hospital/SCAN, NHS Lothian Improving accessibility through delivering person-centred care: Jennifer Crawford, Lead Clinical Pharmacist, Older People & Stroke Services, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Including discussion from the plenary session on a cross-sector approach to medicines discharge	Harnessing data and digital innovation Understanding how current innovative developments in data and digital can improve patient care, including case studies on: Understanding the real-life impact of cancer medicines through the Cancer Medicines Outcomes Programme (CMOP): Kelly Baillie, Senior Clinical Effectiveness Pharmacist – CMOP, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde, and Emma Dunlop, Research Associate, University of Strathclyde Embedding standardised templates for medication review and reconciliation into GP IT systems: Lucy Dixon, Specialist Clinical Pharmacist & Pharmacy Team Lead (East Sutherland), NHS Highland Introducing a bespoke electronic Controlled Drugs ordering system using HEPMA: Stephen Dewar, HEPMA Benefits Realisation Pharmacist, NHS Ayrshire & Arran Including discussion on Adhere Rx and the Medicines Adherence Visualisation Information System from the plenary session

Pharmacy 2030: Celebrating & Sharing Best Practice

SUNDAY 29 MAY, 10AM – 4PM

STRATHCLYDE TECHNOLOGY & INNOVATION CENTRE, GLASGOW

Continued from page 1

2.00- 2.45	Maximising pharmacists' expertise Considering how pharmacists' roles are developing in a broad range of services, including case studies on: Pharmacy roles in the Frailty Living & Dying Well Collaborative: Rizwan Din, Advanced Clinical Services Pharmacist, NHS Lanarkshire Improving use of biologics across three clinical areas – rheumatology, severe asthma and inflammatory bowel disease: Naomi Scott, Lead Pharmacist Rheumatology, Joanna Hutchison, Lead Pharmacist Respiratory Outpatients and Lynne Merchant, Lead Pharmacist Gastroenterology, NHS Lothian Enhanced pharmacy service to provide diamorphine assisted treatment to people who use drugs Dr Carole Hunter, Lead Pharmacist, Addiction Services, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Including discussion from plenary on pharmacist prescribing of antivirals for Covid-19 and supporting the development of independent prescribing	Improving pain management Focused discussion on how pain management can be improved, including case studies on: Chronic pain pharmacist-led reviews using Teach & Treat: Heather Harrison, Senior Prescribing Advisor, NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde Review of analgesic prescribing using a multidisciplinary approach: Fiona Sanderson, Principal Pharmacist HSCP & Mental Health, NHS Ayrshire & Arran Pharmacist-led mindfulness for pain: Dr Emily Kennedy, Locality Lead Pharmacist, Dumfries and Nithsdale, NHS Dumfries & Galloway Including discussion from the plenary session on establishing a patient safety high risk pain medicines programme
2.45-3.05 Refreshment break
3.05- 3.55	Making the vision a reality: how pharmacy organisations can work together to achieve change – panel discussion Laura Fulton, Director for Scotland, General Pharmaceutical Council Ian Rudd, Chair, NHS Scotland Directors of Pharmacy Group Matt Barclay, Director of Operations, Community Pharmacy Scotland Anne Watson, Postgraduate Pharmacy Dean, NHS Education for Scotland Clare Morrison, Director for Scotland, Royal Pharmaceutical Society
3.55- 4.00	Closing remarks Andrew Carruthers, Chair, RPS Scottish Pharmacy Board	