Round-table discussion - "The Insolvency Practitioner of Tomorrow"

Join peers for a roundtable discussion on the ever-changing responsibilities of insolvency practitioners and the ever-expanding scope of their roles. We will explore how the fallout from global economic crises is increasing the expectations placed upon insolvency practitioners, elevating their status from that of traditional crisis-managers to multi-dimensional guardians. The session will also consider whether these modern crisis situations require new or additional skills, and the steps insolvency practitioners may be required to take to adapt to tomorrow's complex business landscape.

IPG initiatives

To conclude, we will turn to the IPG's overarching initiatives, with the aim of gathering valuable insights and ideas for future projects and proposals.
